

MULTIPLIER EVENT Carmarthen, Wales

On the 26th of April, Mess Up The Mess hosted its TIP MULTIPLIER event in Carmarthen, Wales. Our TIP partners from Cardiff were present and led training during the event. The programme included:

- Presentation of the participants in the project "Theatre as an Inclusive Practice"
- Presentation of project objectives, activities and achieved results
- The sharing of the young workshop leaders 'Tips for IP' formed the basis of the event
- Demonstration of different theatre forms including games led by the trained workshop leaders
- Visual impairment awareness training from Hannah Mathews of Ucan
- Sharing of the film resources and website created during the project
- Discussion and teas and coffees

The 30 participants including students and lecturers from University of Wales Trinity St Davids were informed in detail about the project, the objectives and the impact.

The demonstration was led by the newly trained workshop leaders, with the support of the MUTM staff team so that the participants were able to experience the approaches in action.

They all showed interest in including the proposed practices in their future work.
